

Social Distancing

Dennis Etzel, Jr.

Yes, I am one of those Gen Xers you read about in an article from facebook, now thriving in our Breakfast Club togetherness.
I have practiced all my life for this glorious getaway.
I am now told I can do it guiltfree, that I can save lives for doing what I've always done for survival. I can stay on social media as a regular Karma Chameleon. I come and go. You, too, should feel free to come and go.
